WHAT IS MUSIC NETWORK?

Music Network was established by the Arts Council in 1986 to make live music of the highest quality available and accessible to everyone in Ireland, regardless of their location or circumstance, while supporting the career development of Irish musicians. We provide a range of high quality music services delivered in partnership with regionally and locally based organisations throughout the country. This partnership approach develops the capacity of people to provide musical activity within their area, and strengthens the musical life of communities in the longer term.

The organisation holds a unique position in the Irish music sector and has a strong and consistent track record of achievements. Since our establishment in 1986, Music Network has contributed significantly to music development throughout Ireland through our national reach, development of touring infrastructure, establishment of Music Generation and linking of arts policy with on the ground activity.

WHAT WE DO

Tours

We enable audiences throughout Ireland to experience the very best music from world-class musicians in intimate venues across the country.

Musicians

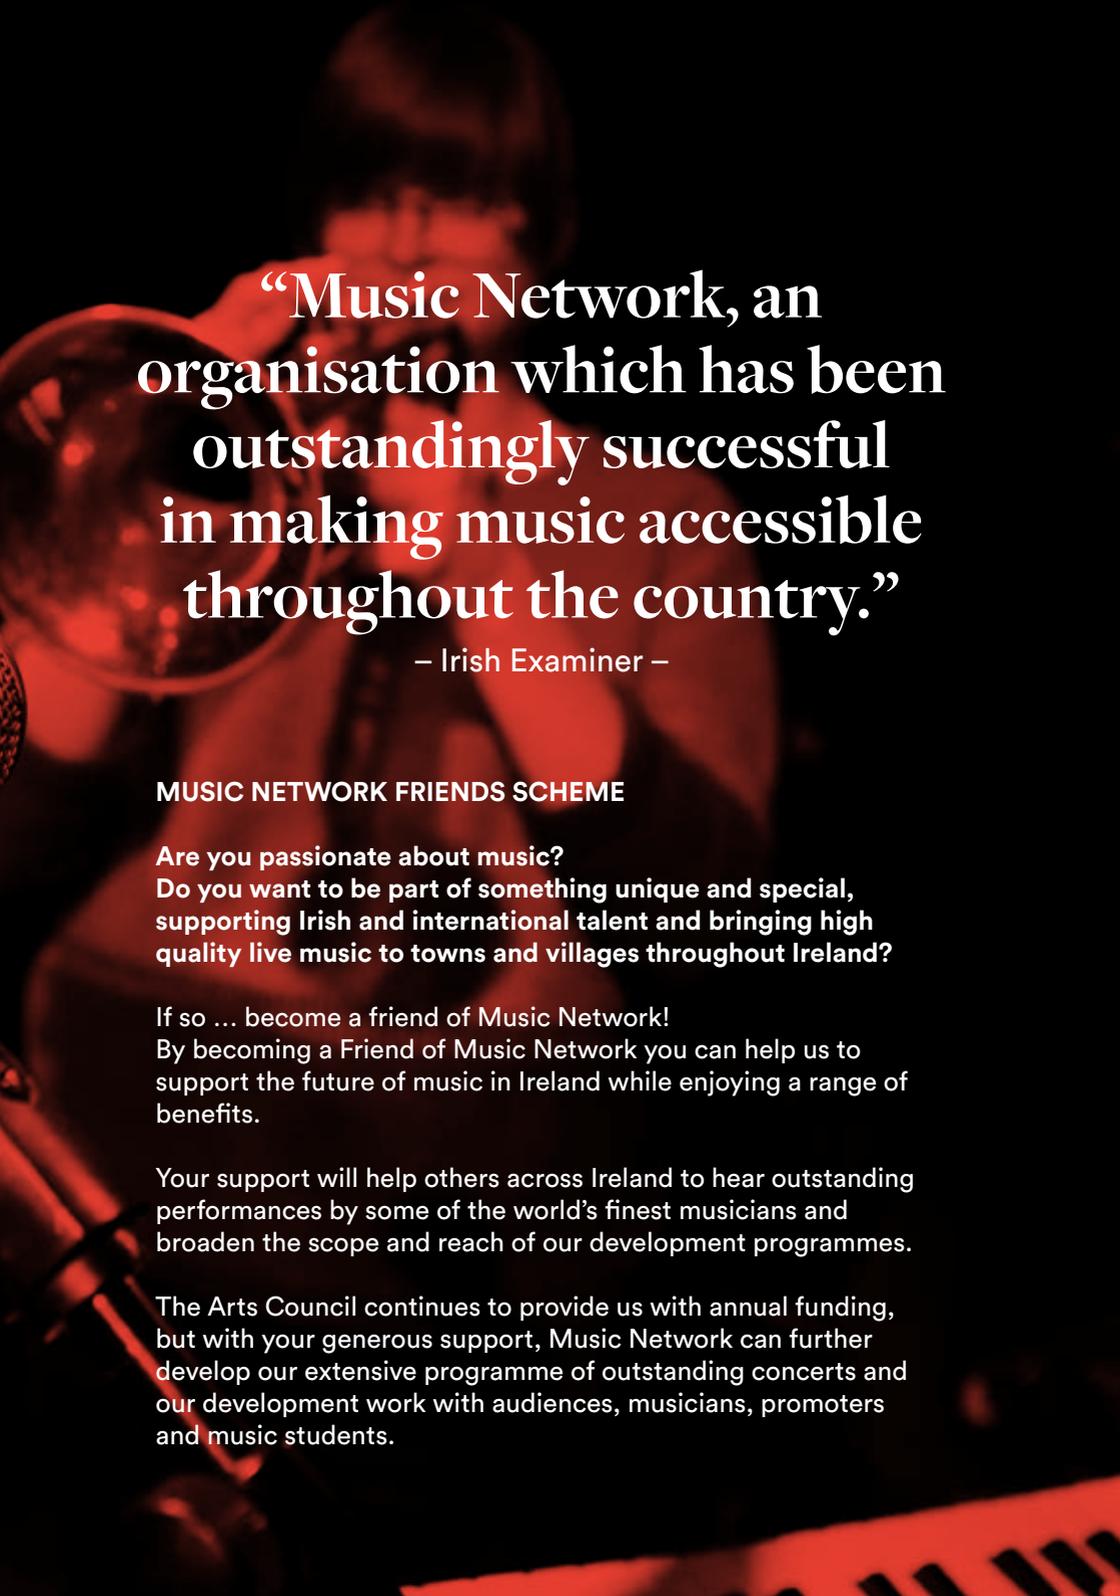

Central to Music Network's mission is supporting the performance careers of professional musicians. We do this through providing national and international concert opportunities, initiating audience development programmes with and through local partner promoters, establishing linkage projects with our subsidiary company Music Generation and local music education organisations, direct funding schemes, training programmes, information and advice services.

Partners

Partnership is fundamental to Music Network's ethos, and our work is delivered together with national, regional and local organisations throughout Ireland. Music Network works in tandem with local voluntary and community groups, local authority arts offices, professional venues and festivals to foster and develop partnerships and grow geographical access to high-quality live classical, jazz & traditional Irish music throughout the country. Music Network also works in conjunction with Moving on Music in Northern Ireland, accessing a range of additional promoters to maximise employment opportunities for musicians.

Advocacy

Our vision is that of a culture which increasingly values live music as an integral part of our everyday lives. Everything we do correlates to this vision: from our work in music education, to supporting musicians, to providing concerts, audience development and outreach activities.

“Music Network, an organisation which has been outstandingly successful in making music accessible throughout the country.”
